Russ Graves Wins Ed Guthrie Award

General Studies is delighted to announce that a member of our staff, Dr. Russ Graves, Associate Director of General Studies, has received the Ed Guthrie Advisor Award. This prestigious award recognizes the efforts of faculty and staff members at Texas A&M University. These award recipients embody the dedication and spirit that former advisor Dr. Ed Guthrie had for students. Dr. Graves was honored in May at the University Advisors and Counselors awards ceremony with a plaque as well as a monetary gift. The General Studies staff would like to congratulate Dr. Graves on this achievement and thank him for his dedication to the students of Texas A&M University.

Planning to take courses at a community college this summer? Make sure the courses you sign up for will transfer to Texas A&M. The Texas Common Course Numbering System (TCCNS) is designed to help students in determining the transferability of courses between colleges and universities throughout Texas. Go to www.tccns.org to find out which courses will transfer to Texas A&M.

After completing summer coursework please have an official transcript sent electronically by the community college you are attending or by mail to:
